

NO LOSS OF LIFE AT CRESTLINE

Property Damaged About Half a Million.

Explosion Was Heard Seventy Miles From the Town.

Steel Rails Bent Like Wire--Car Axle Thrown Half Mile Through a House--Crestline Thrown Into Panic by the Explosion.

Crestline, O., Nov. 2.—A terrific dynamite explosion occurred here at 8 o'clock last night, entailing a loss of at least a half million dollars, but it is reported at noon today that no lives were lost in the frightful disaster. It is a miracle that such damage could be wrought without the loss of a single life.

The dynamite made a hole fully 30 feet deep and 100 feet long. In the Pennsylvania railroad yards 22 tracks were wrecked and not a single track can be used. A car of oil ignited and fifty other cars were burned. As many more were blown to splinters. Eighty pound steel rails were bent like telephone wire and one car axle was thrown a half mile, completely through a farm house. The shock was plainly felt in the surrounding towns of Mansfield, Bucyrus and Galion, and was even felt as far away as Newark.

EARLY DETAILS

Telling of the Force of Terrific Explosion at Crestline.

Crestline, O., Nov. 2.—With the force of a mighty earthquake and a roar indescribable, two carloads of dynamite let loose in the Pennsylvania railroad yards here shortly after eight o'clock Sunday night.

When the concussion came every building in the city seemed to be lifted from its foundation, while walls fell, windows crashed and roofs shook, threatening to fall and crush the occupants. Churches filled with worshippers were thrown into a screaming mass of humanity and those who were enjoying the comforts of their firesides were hurried to the floor and it seemed as if the world were at an end.

Cars, rails, ties and cinders were piled ten feet high on the main tracks and traffic in either direction will be blocked for several days.

Yardmaster W. H. Courter and Clerk Carl Geisinger are seriously hurt from concussion received in the yard office, a half mile from the wreck. Operator J. A. Redmond is also injured, having been struck a quarter of a mile off by flying debris. Many others received trifling injuries.

The part of the yards where the explosion occurred is generally filled with workmen, but all the yard crews seemed by a hand of fate to be engaged elsewhere, and have all reported safe. If any one was in the yards they will undoubtedly never be found. It is impossible to describe the terrible havoc in the railroad company's land. Railroad officials say that no less than 400 cars are completely wrecked, aside from the damage to other property, which will amount to many thousands.

Where the explosion occurred a hole was torn in the ground 200 feet square and fully 20 feet deep. Residences which were within a quarter of a mile of the explosion were completely wrecked. The people were thrown out of their beds, and many injured from falling roofs and walls. A rail was thrown fully a quarter of a mile and lodged in a house, laying it almost to the ground.

In the city the state of affairs simply beggars description. Almost every window is broken and the business district presents a horrible sight. Thousands of dollars of damage was caused to business houses alone. The Union depot and both banks suffered a great deal, but the churches are probably the worst damaged. Services were being held in all of them when the explosion occurred, and in each case the people thought it was their particular church which had collapsed.

Women screamed and fainted and it took the mighty efforts of the men to prevent a stampede and cause death to hundreds. Every possible conveyance was pressed into service to convey the stricken women to their homes.

There has never been a case in the history of the country where such widespread ruin and disaster has been wrought by a single explosion. At first railroad men could not be induced to go near the wreck, fearing a second explosion, and this gave the fire a better start.

Thus far no cause has been given for the explosion and the Pennsylvania officials say they cannot place the blame for the accident. It is probable that the car containing the explosive was struck in switching and the explosion followed.

Here and there in various parts of the west yards were found freight car doors, pieces of rails, boards and debris, showing the terrific force of the explosion. The train of which the car of dynamite was a part, was westbound, on No. 1 siding, and contained about 65 cars of classified merchandise. The engine had been attached to it and was about to pull out. Some cars were shoved down the siding and coupled onto the train where the explosion occurred.

At Mansfield, 14 miles away, the explosion was heard distinctly, and it seemed to the people in their homes that the explosion was in their cellars. A number of windows were smashed and doors blown open.

Yard Conductor Frank Tuckey who had been at work at the train only a few minutes before the explosion, had gone to the second track to the north with some men, and when the crash came he was stunned. The noise was that of reverberating thunder.

PANIC STRICKEN

Were Persons in Towns Many Miles Away from Crestline.

Wooster, O., Nov. 2.—Last night many residents were startled by a low rumbling explosion that shook buildings and rattled windows in such a way as to cause it to be believed that the rumbling was an earthquake. Later it was learned that the noise was caused by an explosion of powder at Crestline, 54 miles away. Telephone reports from villages 20 miles from Crestline stated that people attending churches were panic stricken by the terrible roar. The flash caused by the explosion was seen by many.

MANSFIELD WAS SHAKEN.

Mansfield, O., Nov. 2.—The explosion of a car load of dynamite is Crestline completely shook this city as well as the town of Shelby. Every building in Shelby was more or less damaged.

GLASS BROKEN IN SHELBY.

Shelby, O., Nov. 2.—Shelby and all vicinity was terribly shaken up by the explosion at Crestline. A large plate glass window in a business block was broken as a result.

And now Mrs. Fish declares that Harry Lehr is "an ordinary person." Surely this is the most undidest cut of all!

WENTZ

Held in the Mountains and an Offer Made to Deliver Him for Big Money.

Bristol, Tenn., Nov. 2.—Robert L. Brown, president of a prominent coal company in Wise county, Virginia, is quoted as having said that on Friday afternoon the Wentz family received tidings of Edward Wentz, the missing young Philadelphia millionaire.

A shrewd looking young man, it is stated, appeared at the Wentz mansion at Big Stone Gap, Va., and requested a conference with Dr. John S. Wentz, father of the missing young man. He was admitted and told Dr. Wentz that his son was alive and well and that he had been authorized to say that for $100,000 young Wentz, who was then in handcuffs in the Cumberland mountains, would be delivered to the family unharmed.

Dr. Wentz, it is said, told the stranger that he would have first to bring him a letter from his son as an evidence that he was alive, and that then his proposition would be considered. The stranger agreed to this and immediately left for the mountains. He was shadowed and was seen to get off the train at the mining village of Essersville, when he disappeared in the direction of the Cumberland mountains.

He is expected to return to Big Stone Gap today. Meanwhile the detectives are keeping a sharp lookout and startling developments are anticipated.

DOWIE'S HOST

New York, Nov. 2.—John Alexander Dowie's host started from this city for Zion City today. The first trainload left the Grand Central station at 7:50 o'clock this morning and the remainder will follow at intervals. Pickpockets were numerous in the crowd that had assembled at the station to see them off and some of the pockets of the host were rifled before the first train started on its way.

LONDON POLICE

Adopt "Puddin' Head Wilson's" System of Identification.

London, Nov. 2.—The London police are enthusiastic over the result of the new method of the identification of criminals by finger-tip impressions, and the report of the commissioner of police recently issued indicates that the finger-tip system elaborated in Mark Twain's "Puddin' Head Wilson" will entirely supersede the somewhat cumbersome anthropometrical system. The report shows that in the first half of the year 1,722 criminals were identified by finger tips, as against 462 by measurements.

VERY FEW

Will be Invited to Witness the Wedding of Miss May Golet.

New York, Nov. 2.—Contrary to the expectations of many the wedding of Miss May Golet and the Duke of Roxburgh will not be an elaborate ceremony, to which hosts of friends will be invited. It will be attended by comparatively few persons.

The number of invitations to the ceremony, which is to be held at St. Thomas church on Tuesday, November 10, will be limited to 200, and a much smaller number will be invited to the reception that is to follow at Mrs. Golet's house No. 608 Fifth avenue.

Miss Golet is to wear a gown of heavy white satin, that will be almost entirely covered with point d'Aleppo lace, and in addition there will be garlands of orange blossoms and the English May flower. The wedding veil will be of tulle or lace.

HELD UP

By Two Strangers Who Got Away With Over $3,000

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 2.—While Melville M. Wheeler, cashier of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company, was at work on his monthly payroll at the general offices of the company in this city shortly before 5 o'clock this morning, two strangers suddenly appeared and, pointing pistols at the head of the cashier, forced him to unlock the vault. After securing something over $3,000, they backed out and escaped. The offices of the telephone company are in the heart of the city and were brilliantly lighted at the time of the hold-up.

INSANE

Contractor Murdered Wife and Killed Himself Monday.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Louis Mortfeld, a contractor, 40 years of age, who came here from St. Louis, shot and killed his wife, Sophia, aged 31, then committed suicide, at 5 o'clock this morning at their home, 210 New Jersey avenue. Mrs. Mortfeld was shot through the heart. He was an inmate of the government hospital for the insane up to a short time ago and was on parole. Insanity, it is said, prompted his terrible crime.

MRS. DOWIE

Wife of "Elijah the Restorer," Says "Prophet" Will Follow Her to Australia.

Liverpool, Nov. 2.—Mrs. John Alexander Dowie, wife of "Elijah the Restorer," accompanied by her son, arrived in Liverpool from Boston today. Mrs. Dowie says the report current in America to the effect that she carried a chest containing $7,000,000 was a myth pure and simple. "Elijah," she said, would follow her to Australia, shortly.

TWO SONS

Died and Rev. David Pratt Told How He Forsook Infidelity for the Pulpit.

East Liverpool, O., Nov. 2.—At the First Methodist Episcopal church Rev. David Pratt, of Portland, Me., occupied the pulpit of his son, Rev. Dr. Milton Butler Pratt, the pastor preaching on the sin of infidelity. He told of a father, an infidel, whose first born son died in infancy, following in succession by his second son.

"When the third son was born," he said, "the father went out and prayed long and earnestly that the child's life might be spared. Then he went to church and announced that he had given his life to God. Brethren, that infidel stands before you, that third son was your pastor." While his hearers wept he drew an impressive lesson from his life story.

AGED FATHER

Of Dowie is Heartbroken by His Son's Cruel Repudiation.

Essex, Iowa, Nov. 2.—John Murray Dowie, crushed by the attack made upon him by his son, John Alexander Dowie, says:

"The statement that I am not the father of John Alexander Dowie is the greatest myth ever uttered by the mouth of man. It is scandalous that my son should repudiate me after I have done so much for him. He is my son and was born in lawful wedlock. No one can deny it. The records may be had at the great registrar offices, Princess street, Edinburgh, Scotland. I have always lived a quiet, peaceable Christian life and it breaks my heart to have this trouble come toward the end."

Judge Dowie, who is respected by the whole community, lives here in his little cottage. The resemblance between John Murray Dowie and John Alexander Dowie is so close that the father has often been taken for the son. The old man is growing feeble and the recent trouble has aged him greatly.

IRISH FUGITIVE

Tried for a Political Crime in Indianapolis Won His Case and Goes Free.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—Charles W. Moore, United States Commissioner, ruled that the crime for which James Lynch was sentenced in Ireland was a political crime, and that Lynch should be released from custody.

Jesse J. M. LaFollette, representing the British government, asked that the case be certified to the Secretary of State, as if the man had been held.

This motion was overruled and Lynch was left the courtroom a free man.

Commissioner Moore began reading his decision at 2:35 this afternoon and refused to state what its effect would be until he pronounced the last words at 3:15 and set Lynch free. There was a big demonstration in the court room, it being filled with prominent Irishmen of this city.

In closing Commissioner Moore said: "It is evident to me that the assault on Mrs. McDonnell was incidental to and a part of a popular disturbance; that the popular disturbance including the prisoner's part in it, had its origin and cause in a movement on the part of the people to overthrow landlordism, and was done to further that movement, and that this movement, futile though it was, did disturb the political and social order of Ireland; that these people would have been in a state of open insurrection had not the right of arms been denied them, and, in fine, that the riot of October 6 was for political purposes, and that its participants were engaged in a partisan conflict whose object was a change of laws and an upsetting of existing political conditions."

STANDARD OIL

Advanced the Price Again Making 2 1-2 Cent Increase in the Past Two Weeks.

Cleveland, Nov. 2.—The Standard Oil company advanced the wholesale price of all grades of refined oil one cent per gallon this morning. This makes an advance of 2 1-2 cents on all grades in the past fortnight.

TO SIOUX FALLS

It is Believed Mrs. Molineux is Bound to Wed W. D. Scott.

Siooux Falls, S. D., Nov. 2.—The information to the effect that Mrs. Blanche Chesbrough Molineux had secretly departed from New York for an unknown destination attracted keen interest here.

Although those who are familiar with her plans decline to commit themselves it is generally believed that she will come to Sioux Falls and that her marriage to Wallace D. Scott, of this city, a member of the law firm which secured a South Dakota divorce for her, will follow.

AN INDIAN FIGHT

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 2.—The last advice from the scene of Saturday's battle between a band of Crow Indians under Charlie Carries Elk and Deputy Sheriff Miller and a posse of Weston county states that Sheriff Miller was shot through the left hip and may die. Deputy Charlie Faulkenbury was killed and two deputies, whose names were not learned, were wounded. A brother of Charlie Carries Elk and two other Indians were killed and several were wounded. The trouble was caused by Indians leaving the reservation to hunt.

JILTED MISS GOT $30,000

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 2.—Thirty thousand dollars damages was the verdict of the jury in the breach of promise case brought by Miss Henrietta Adams, of this city, against R. Stuart Baker, the young millionaire of Grand Haven. Miss Adams and Baker were students at Oberlin college when their romance began, and a more loving couple never trod the college green. After they left college Henrietta taught school and Baker knocked about the country in various enterprises, waiting for his patrimony to become due. They exchanged about 1,000 love letters, all of which were introduced into the trial.

When Baker got his fortune he coolly married another girl and sent Henrietta cards. Henrietta went to court at once. Baker's bride, an estimated young woman of Grand Haven, sat beside him in the court room during the trial.

BY THE ROADSIDE

Lyday Left His Small Child, Scared Neighbors, Then Killed Himself.

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—Because of the cruelty of Seymour Lyday his wife left him and went to the home of her father near West Jefferson. Lyday appeared there with a 32 calibre revolver. At the point of the gun he took possession of his 16 months old child and hurried away. He told the frantic mother that he was going to kill the child and himself.

After midnight the child was found almost frozen but unharmed where he had left it at the roadside. Marshall Clark of West Jefferson, started after the wild man. Lyday heard of the Marshall's movements and after learning almost all the details of West Jefferson, he committed suicide at the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. L. E. Evans.

TRUST A SWINDLE SAYS THE RECEIVER

Falsification and Deceit Are Charged.

Shipbuilding Company Organizers Severely Arraigned.

Claim Figures Willfully Mistated--Wholesale Plunder and Artistic Swindle are Terms Applied Recommendation Made by Receiver.

New York, Nov. 2.—Sensational allegations of willful misstatements, falsification, swindling and fraud in the organization and flotation of the United States Shipbuilding company, of attempts to mislead and deceive the investing public by erroneous prospectus statements and of a deliberate plan to wreck the company by withholding the earnings of the Bethlehem Steel company, are contained in the report of Receiver James Smith, jr., of the United States Shipbuilding company, made public here.

The report concludes with the recommendation that suit be brought against all persons who received stock of the company without paying full value therefor, including the promoters of the consolidation, the vendors of the constituent plants and Charles M. Schwab, to recover from them such amount as may be necessary to pay the debts of the company in full.

Receiver Smith also recommends the sale of the Crescent shipyard plant in New Jersey and the Harlem and Hollingsworth plant at Wilmington, Del., subsidiary plants not now in operation, to avoid further loss by depreciation, and the enforcement of a receivership for the Bethlehem Steel company to insure the payment of dividends in the Bethlehem stock held by the United States Shipbuilding company.

In the words of the report, the organization of the company is characterized as an "artistic swindle." Receiver Smith stating that the value of the plants, their earnings and working capital, given in alleged thorough reports of expert accountants, vary so much from actual figures "as to impel the belief that the figures were willfully mistated" and that it is extremely doubtful if such accountants' reports were submitted at the organization of the company.

It is further stated that the organization was affected by "dummy stockholders, directors and officers," that statements in the prospectus issued on June 14, 1902, were incorrect; that for property worth $12,441,516 the shipbuilding company paid in stock and bonds $57,997,000; that "the accommodating directors of the United States Shipbuilding company in acquiring these companies deliberately gave away many millions of dollars in the stock and bonds of their company," "while sale plunder," the receiver terms it, to a few persons and that, so far as the Bethlehem Steel company is concerned, "its earnings have been withheld in a deliberate attempt to wreck the United States Shipbuilding company."

The report deals fully with the name of Charles M. Schwab and the nature of the Bethlehem transactions, says Mr. Smith, is such as "to justify him (Mr. Schwab) in saying that he did not sell the Bethlehem Steel company, but took over the United States Shipbuilding company, the directors of that company giving him $20,000,000 in stock and bonds for taking it off their hands. The recommendations of the report in full are:

"1.—That in order to avoid depreciation by disuse and because of the existence of controversies as to the validity of the encumbrances upon the premises, the Crescent shipyard be sold free and clear of all such encumbrances as soon as the work now in contemplation is completed.

"2.—That similar action be taken with reference to the plant of the Harlem and Hollingsworth company, Wilmington, Del.

"3.—That as soon as the debts of the company shall have been ascertained, suit be instituted against all persons who received the stock of this company without paying full value therefor, to recover from them such amount as shall be necessary to pay such debts in full, under section 21 of an act of the legislature of the state of New Jersey, entitled 'An act concerning corporations' (revision of 1896).

"4.—That suit be instituted against the Bethlehem Steel company to procure the appointment of a receiver and compel the appropriation of the earnings of that company by way of dividends on the stock."

Referring to the millions of dollars in the stock and bonds of the United States Shipbuilding company "deliberately given away," Receiver Smith says:

"Who participated in this wholesale plunder? The testimony now being taken in the proceedings will doubtless disclose the names of all the participants. Certain it is that much of this vast amount was taken by persons and corporations who parted with little or no consideration in exchange therefor. 'Blocks of the stock went to the vendors of the constituent plants and to the purchasers of the bonds, as bonus, absolutely without benefit to the company.' $20,000,000 of it admittedly Charles M. Schwab, in addition to the agreed price for Bethlehem.

"Some of it went to the promoters of this artistic swindle, and when all had been provided for, what was left of the bonds, amounting to $1,500,000, was handed back to the company ostensibly to supply it with working capital."

Victims of hay fever might be permanently cured of it by going to the Adirondacks.

Perhaps you cannot eat oatmeal; it does not agree with you. Did you ever try H-O?

H-O is oatmeal but it is prepared so you can eat it. The raw starch is converted into dextrine by steam cooking at 250 degrees temperature. You can eat H-O. Ask the doctor.

Can you make a Kinderbeast? Can you take the pieces found cut out on the cards in each package of H-O and put them together so as to make the Kinderbeast named on the card? It is great fun to do and worth while besides. Try it.

HIS LORDSHIP'S ...SECRETARY

(Original.)

Two young Englishmen, hunting in the far west, one night sought shelter at a ranch, where unexpectedly they came upon the family of the owner, an eastern capitalist.

"I say, Bramley," said one of the hunters to the other, "these people belong to that class who are after titled husbands for their daughters. Now, wouldn't it be a jolly joke for us to let it out that we are titled men traveling incog?"

Bramley looked at his companion, surprised. "You mean in order to secure a rich wife under the pretense of being a nobleman?"

"Oh, I was only proposing to go in for the fun of it," replied the other. "Well, Chesborough, suppose you play the lord, and I'll play your secretary. I shall not be claiming a rank above what I really possess, and you will be free to get what amusement out of it you can. I have an intimate friend—Lord Charley—about whose affairs I know a great deal. Personate him if you like, and I will be able to keep you from detection by preventing your making any serious blunders."

So it was made up that Chesborough should play Lord Charley, and it was soon evident to Bramley that he was striving to win the love of Florence Mortimer, the second daughter of the owner of the ranch. As soon as it was known that the sportsmen were a lord and his secretary very naturally they were objects of interest and were invited to prolong their stay. There was a slight suspicion, however, on the part of the Mortimers of Lord Charley. They had mingled with noble families abroad, and his lordship, though certainly having the manner of a gentleman, if a lord seemed to them to be a very inferior one.

Florence Mortimer was not hunting for titles, and his lordship did not please her. His secretary seemed far preferable. She was a fine horsewoman, and she and Mr. Bramley rode together and sang duets together and read books together till Mr. Mortimer began to feel troubled. Miss Florence was a very independent character, and he feared that if she fell in love with Mr. Bramley, who, being a lord's secretary, was, to say the least, not an important personage, she would marry him despite all efforts to prevent it.

Meanwhile the spurious lord became infatuated with the girl and, seeing that she was not only irresponsible, but leaning toward Bramley, confidentially warned her against his secretary, informing her that he was the younger son of a nobleman, had been cashiered from the army, and that he (Charley) was, being related to him, had taken him into his service and brought him to America with the hope that he might marry well and make the new world his home.

Miss Mortimer expressed gratitude to his lordship for his magnanimity in not sacrificing her to his designs for his protegee. Then, leaving him, she thought out the problem of the strangers. Evidently there was something wrong with them. It was difficult for her to think ill of Bramley, and she did not believe Charley's story. But Bramley was, to say the least, in bad company, and she determined to drop him. The next morning her father informed the two huntsmen that other guests were expected and their rooms would be required.

A hot flush passed over Bramley's cheeks at the polite dismissal, which he knew was with Miss Mortimer's consent, for she had scarcely noticed him at breakfast. He had unwittingly brought the slight upon himself. Chesborough was a stranger to him, whom he had met in the west, and, being a fellow countryman and a sportsman, had taken him up for companionship. He was puzzled about course to take. Indeed after reflection he concluded that there was nothing for him to do but go without attempting to explain.

When Miss Florence Mortimer returned to New York she wrote to friends in England making inquiries about the Earl of Charley and learned that there was such a title and such a person and that during the past autumn he had been hunting in America. The next step in the affair was an invitation to dine with him. Miss Mortimer, thinking that she might have been unjust to him in the matter of his story about his secretary, decided to accept.

"Miss Mortimer," said the hostess, tapping the lady on the back with her fan to secure her attention, "let me present Lord Charley." Florence turned, and there stood Mr. Bramley, his cheeks flaming like a pair of carmine.

A pleasant surprise lighted up Miss Mortimer's face, relieving to a great extent the earl's embarrassment. Since they were not alone she tactfully began to chat without any reference to their former meeting, but later when they were seated apart from the others she said:

"Come, there is a story I am dying to hear."

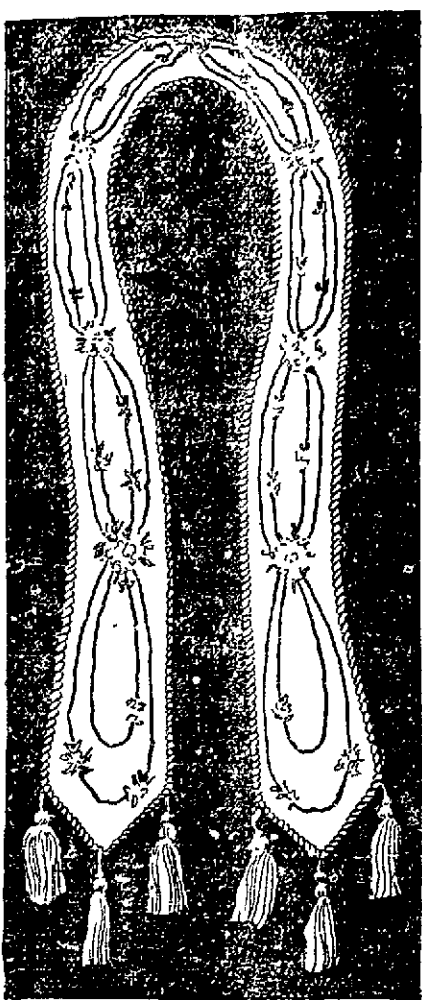

Charley began by telling her that to enjoy a hunting season, avoiding portents, he had come to the country under the name of Bramley and gone west, where he had met Chesborough, to whom he did not reveal his identity. He then confessed that when Chesborough proposed that they should play the parts of nobleman and secretary to let Chesborough play his (Charley's) part was too strong to be resisted. Miss Mortimer was at first inclined to blame him for not making an explanation before he left the ranch, but before he left her he had convinced her that he could not in honor to the false earl do so. At any rate she so far forgave the indiscretion as to become Lady Charley. F. A. MITCHELL.

NEW FANCY WORK.

(KINDS ADAPTED TO CHARMING DRESS ACCESSORIES.)

Easy Embroidery For Leisure Moments—A Very Stylish Cloth Stole in Gold and White—An Excellent Idea For the Decoration of Blouses.

Among the feminine pleasures of an autumn vacation season for many women is certainly to be reckoned the opportunity it affords for the fancy work.

AN EMBROIDERED STOLE.
(Gold braid, cord and ribbon on white cloth.)

which is crowded out of the ordinary employments of a busy life. To many a feminine mind there is something eminently soothing and restful in plying the needle, especially when the work is undertaken without fear of the irritating interruptions that often prevent its satisfactory completion or result in marring its prettiness.

The embroidery here illustrated is thoroughly suitable for pick up work, light, easily and quickly executed, just such as to serve the purpose of filling up the leisure moments which every one is likely to have at command during the next few weeks. The stole is of very fine white cloth. The interlacing lines of the pattern are laid down in narrow gold braid, the little posies and sprays of flowers being in delicate ribbon work, the whole lined with white silk and finished with a fine silk cord and tassels. It is a charming idea, well worthy the attention of those who are about to make a round of visits, for which a novel and tasteful piece of embroidery is always a satisfactory part of one's equipment.

The second illustration appears at first sight to be a considerably more ambitious undertaking than the first, though in reality the piece of work represented is perfectly simple. It is one of the embroidered blouses which have had such success. These delightful blouses are carried out in linen, canvas, cloth, flannel or other material.

EMBROIDERED BLOUSE.
(Light cloth worked in scarlet and blue.)

rials, cut out after any good pattern and traced ready for working. The model illustrated is embroidered in scarlet and blue washing cottons with capital effect. The various parts are worked and put together after the embroidery is finished. Silk embroidery and spangle work are also used on appropriate materials.

Fashion Echoes.
A skirt made in deep double bounce effect is one of the novelties.

For street wear a black kid tie with taffeta ribbon bow and high Cuban heel is strictly correct, and slightly more dressy is a patent leather tie of the same order for street or house.

Petticoats are an all important item. They should be fitted with as much care as the dress skirt, and the bottom is a mass of frills and flounces.

With the low evening bodice a band of tulle is drawn around the throat, with a smartly tied butterfly bow at the back.

Fancy stockings are very much in vogue.

Green will retain its prestige, especially in millinery.

Brown is one of the very fashionable colors.

Mohair now makes fashionable walking suits.

Shoes must be smart and adapted to the occasion.

How a Fortune Was Saved

(Original.)

When I had left college and was looking about for some means of livelihood my eye fell on an advertisement of a man who wanted a secretary. I called at the address, a handsome house enclosed in spacious grounds, and found a man who had been born a gentleman, but without much education. I was engaged and met in his house a publisher to whom I proposed a venture which was successful and led up to a fortune. When I resigned my secretaryship I was speaking to my employer of the chance, as I called it, which had led me to him and consequently to prosperity.

"Chance!" he exclaimed. "That was no chance. The world is full of such chances as that. Rather call it the result of a perfectly rational act—my advertisement. If you want to hear the story of a fortune secured by chance I will tell you one for myself."

"When I was a boy I was inclined to be wayward. Instead of being satisfied to remain at school I ran away and went to sea. I had enough of salt water in one voyage and would have returned to my father had I not been too proud. I entered the service of a manufacturer of paper who did a very extensive business. There I remained ten years, but having an inherited dislike for business—my ancestors got rich by holding land—I never was promoted beyond the position of salesman. Finally I was discharged."

"I made up my mind to go home and see what had become of my father. My mother had died at my birth, and I was the only child. Therefore at my father's death the property would all come to me unless, disgusted with my action in running away, he should leave it elsewhere. On reaching home I found that he had died about two years before and left the property to his housekeeper, Mrs. Higgins. I knew the woman, for she had been in the family from the time of my birth, and it was her ill treatment of me that had largely influenced me to run away from home."

"I visited the family lawyer, Mr. Jones, and endeavored to learn if my father had spoken to him of me and his intentions regarding me. He told me that shortly before his death my father had mentioned the matter of a will and said to him that he would make no will on account of my absence, relying on the law to settle the matter in accordance with subsequent events, including my possible return. My father died in June, 1893, and no will was produced till eighteen months later. Meanwhile I had been hunted for and not found. In December, 1896, Mrs. Higgins produced the will, which, she declared, she had found among other papers in my father's cabinet. It was of the simplest form, stating that he left all his property, real and personal, to Mrs. Martha Higgins, widow, in consideration of her kind care and treatment of him for many years. I asked the lawyer if there was no way of breaking the will, and he said there was none unless I could prove that Mrs. Higgins had used undue influence over the testator or that he was of unsound mind. I knew that my own obstinacy was inherited from my father, and not even Mrs. Higgins was likely to have influenced him. As to his being of unsound mind, all his affairs had been attended to in a manner indicating the healthiest mental condition till a few days before his death. The will was dated four months before he was taken with his last illness."

"It didn't take me long to discover that there was no possibility of my recovering my property through ordinary legal process. I was forced to give the matter up and go hunting for a position whereby to live. I found a small job sufficient to keep me alive, but my mind remained upon my fortune and Mrs. Higgins. Finally a desire came to me to see with my own eyes the will by which my father had disinherited me. Being ignorant of such matters, I went to Mr. Jones, who took me to the courthouse, where the document was filed, and it was produced by an officer of the court. It was written on half a sheet of note paper and witnessed by two persons of whom I had no knowledge. I was permitted to take it in my hands and, yielding to a habit acquired in the paper business, rubbed it with my thumb and forefinger, then held it up to the light."

"Mr. Jones," I said, "that paper was manufactured by the Bagstock Paper company, with which I was connected, and sold by me when it first came from the mills last September. I remember the fact because it was about the sale of some of this paper that I got into trouble and lost my position."

"How could that have been?" he replied. "This is February, 1897. Last September was in 1896. The will is dated May, 1895."

"It doesn't make any difference to me when the will was dated. That paper was not manufactured and sold till last September."

"Then the will is a forgery, and you are heir at law to the property."

"This is virtually the end of my story, for I had little trouble in getting a confession from Mrs. Higgins and the witnesses who were in league with her on condition that I would not pick out any of them, and the property became mine."

"No, there is chance, and there is what may appear to be chance. There is no chance in advertising. It is a legitimate business act. My advertising for a secretary led to certain results. But everything leads to something. The only question is as to the importance of the results."

MISSION

AT THE ST. FRANCIS DE SALES CHURCH OPENS.

Passionists, Fathers Gabriel and Alexander Speak—All Are Welcome and Everything Free.

The Passionists, Fathers Gabriel and Alexander, opened the mission in St. Francis de Sales Sunday and it is already an assured success. At the conclusion of the gospel a procession was formed in the vestibule and marched up the center aisle in the following order: Father O'Donoghue carried the large mission cross attended by the candle bearers, next the acolytes, and lastly the missionaries. When they reached the sanctuary some introductory hymns were sung and then Father Gabriel ascended the platform and placed the cross in its socket. He then preached the first sermon of the mission and all admit that it was a great effort. The voice of this Father is marvelous in its dramatic power and effect. He was heard even in a whisper in every corner of the large edifice. Few are aware that St. Francis de Sales church can accommodate twelve hundred of an audience. Father Alexander is a younger man than Father Gabriel. He preached in the evening and proved that he can sway the feelings of his hearers. He spoke on the human soul and its value and while he uttered the deepest thoughts he was readily understood by all. It is a rare treat to hear these ascetic monks with their garb of St. Paul of the Cross, barefooted, save that they wear sandals.

The services are as follows: Masses at 5 and 8 a. m. Preaching followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, 7:30 p. m. Everything free and all are welcome.

TERRIFIC
EXPLOSION AT CRESTLINE WAS FELT IN NEWARK.

Several Women from this City Felt the Shock at Bucyrus—Panic at Bucyrus Armory.

The terrific explosion at Crestline was plainly heard Sunday night by a number of Newark citizens, who were at a loss to account for what they heard, never dreaming that the sound came from a source nearly 70 miles away.

At Bucyrus, 11 miles distant, the noise was deafening, and much damage was done. At the armory there, where evangelistic services were being held, a panic ensued, and men and women crowded out of windows and doors in unreasoning terror, while many women, who could not get out, fainted.

The shock was plainly felt in the First Methodist church at Bucyrus. The closing session of the State King's Daughters' convention was being held in this edifice, and the choir had just got up to sing when the shock came. Everyone in the church was greatly frightened, but the organist and choir without showing any signs of alarm, went right on with the musical service and everyone remained in his seat until after the services were concluded.

In this audience were Mrs. George I. Webb, Mrs. W. D. Fulton and daughter, Miss Bertha, Misses Lora Snythe, Lillian Miller and Berlie Lora of Newark, who attended the King's Daughters' convention from this city.

At the armory a number of people were injured.

A report of the Crestline explosion may be read on the first page of this paper.

Let No Democrat Fail to Vote Tomorrow.
We cannot impress too forcibly the importance of getting out the full Democratic vote in this city and county tomorrow.
Whenever a party or its candidates are defeated in a campaign, it is not so much because certain candidates are scratched off the ticket as because a large number of voters stayed away from the polls and neglected to vote at all. Let no Democrat think that he should stay away from the polls simply because he happens to be busy, or because this is not a national campaign. There are national issues to be decided in this campaign in the election or defeat of Mark Hanna, as well as in the success or defeat of the Republican party.
To this end every vote for W. D. Benner for Representative, and for F. T. Gwynn for State Senator, is important to secure the defeat of Mark Hanna.
Mr. W. N. Fulton, our excellent candidate for County Treasurer, is deserving the well merited endorsement of a second term to the office which he has so faithfully filled.
Every other candidate on our county ticket is a new candidate, standing on his own character, and running on his own record. It is only justice that these candidates, who were nominated at a free and fair primary election, at which every Democrat in the county had a right to vote, should receive the solid vote of the Democratic party tomorrow. Don't stay away from the polls, fellow Democrats. Don't fail to vote. It is your greatest privilege and your greatest duty.
Every Democratic voter will save time tomorrow by voting straight. When he cross mark is safely placed under the rooster and nowhere else on the ballot, the Democratic voter has done his whole duty, and then there will be no danger that he will lose his vote by any mistake by which his ballot may be thrown out.
The Democrat who votes his ticket straight will vote correctly on the constitutional amendments. The Democrat who puts his cross mark in the circle under the rooster will do his whole duty.
The Newark voter who properly appreciates the necessity for the city of Newark to be represented on the Board of Commissioners will vote for Frank Showman.
The Constitutional Amendments are properly printed on the Democratic ballot. The Democrat who votes his ticket straight will vote properly on the amendments.

Democrats, simply put your cross mark under the rooster tomorrow and nowhere else.
Democrats, vote early and vote quickly tomorrow by putting your cross mark in the circle under the rooster.
BIG FLOOD MADE "CUCUMBER KING."
Topeka, Kas., Nov. 2.—A newspaper man of this town holds the title of "cucumber king." He is Charles Sessions, political writer for a Kansas City paper. Sessions was a flood sufferer. He had 10 acres in potatoes on his farm in the Kaw river bottoms, and the flood washed them out. He couldn't find enough seed potatoes to replant the land in time to get a crop, but he found a pickle factory man who had a better scheme. He persuaded Sessions to plant cucumbers with the result that he has harvested enough to keep the pickle factory running on full time in one week he has harvested 27,000 pickles and there are twice as many yet on the vines.

Navy Yards and Docks.
Washington, Nov. 2.—In his annual report to the Secretary of the Navy, Rear Admiral M. T. Endicott, chief of the Bureau and yards and docks, made public today, says that the expenditures in his department during the fiscal year aggregate $6,604,505 87. The report continues: "The efficiency of the navy yards and stations has been materially increased by the improvements added during the year, although the increase has hardly kept pace with the rapid growth of the navy afloat and it is hoped more liberal appropriations may be secured, both for the construction of new works and the maintenance and repair of existing improvements."

FUNERAL
Of Mr. R. H. Weinig Will be Held in Newark Wednesday Afternoon at 2 O'Clock
The funeral of Roderick H. Weinig whose sudden death in New York City on Saturday has already been mentioned in the Advocate, will take place from the residence of Edward Kibler, on Granville street, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends of the family are invited to attend the services, although the burial will be private. The remains will be accompanied to Newark by the widow and son of the deceased, and Benjamin L. Wilson, brother of Mrs. Weinig. Mr. Weinig was a former resident of Newark, having been in the services of the B. & O. telegraph company here in the '80s. Afterwards he was with the United Press Association in New York, and at the time of his death held a responsible position with the Long Distance Telephone company of New York City. Mr. Weinig was not only an expert telegrapher and electrician, but was an inventor of note, having secured several valuable patents in telegraphy. In 1887 Mr. Weinig married Miss Mary Wilson, daughter of the late Daniel D. Wilson, of this city, and one son, Daniel Wilson Weinig, survives.

AMUSEMENTS.
"A Royal Slave" is breaking records in many theaters this season. It is very evident that the theater-going public are aware of the excellence of the offering presented by Manager Harry Gordon in the form of "A Royal Slave," for packed houses have greeted almost every performance. Those cast in the piece are stronger than any season since the first production. Mr. Bennett, as Aquila, the title role, has never been seen to a better advantage than this season, a summer vacation in the heart of the scene placing him in perfect condition. Miss Irene Duckett, as Isadora, has, as usual, been delighted, proving herself amply capable of taking care of the part. Miss Lulu McConnell is becoming more popular each day, gaining new laurels by her dramatic work, as well as by her excellent specialties. The entire company, as well, seems to have struck a happy medium, and the entire play goes without a hitch. Auditorium, tomorrow night.
Next Friday Night.
Tim Murphy, as usual, is first in the field of this season's dramatic events, but his visit to this city this year will be doubly interesting because in "The Man From Missouri" he has an entirely new comedy written specially for him by George V. Hobart and Edward E. Rose, two of the most clever writers of the day. Having a new play, Mr. Murphy has also provided new and elaborate scenic embellishment and has surrounded himself with an excellent company, unusually large as to the number of artists employed. Dorothy Sherrod heads the list of the women, all of whom it is said wear quite a number of fetching gowns of the latest approved fashion. "The Man From Missouri" is one of those laughable comedies, with no suggestion of horse play, but is clean, sweet and pure as new-mown hay. Broncho Jim—a big, wholesome, veritable Remington cowboy from out of the West—visits a Washington friend whom he has helped elect to congress. The congressman introduces his Western friend to Washington society, and—well, you will have to sit through the four laughter-provoking and tear-compelling acts of this comedy to learn just how Broncho Jim puts to rights the social matters that want readjusting. Auditorium, Friday night, November 6.

MINISTER
From Canada Preached Two Able Sermons Sunday at the Second Presbyterian Church.
The pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church was occupied on Sunday, both morning and evening, by the Rev. Mr. Cosgrove, of St. Mary's, Ontario. His subject at the morning discourse, was taken from the text, "Why art thou cast down, O my soul, and why art thou disquieted within me? Hope thou in God."
The reverend gentleman, who is a most brilliant talker, after enumerating and explaining many of the causes of spiritual unrest in a manner that reached the hearts of all his hearers urged those present to seek comfort and rest in God. In the evening he preached a short sermon full of good thoughts. He made a very favorable impression on the congregation, and the hope has been freely expressed that he will become the pastor of the church.
A FAMOUS CASE.
Berlin, Nov. 2.—A final decision has at last been rendered in the famous case of the Rothschilds against the Russian government. Some time ago the Rothschilds combined and bought large petroleum fields from the Russian government. When the transaction was announced objection was lodged with the Russian government that the sale was not legal because the Rothschilds were Jews. A final decision has finally been rendered stating that the objection is valid. It is expected that the Standard Oil and a big syndicate of German oil dealers will be the rival bidders.

THANKSGIVING

To Be Observed on November 26, According to the Proclamation of the President.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The President has issued his annual Thanksgiving proclamation in the following terms:
"By the President of the United States of America—A Proclamation: The season is at hand, when, according to the custom of our people, it falls on the President to appoint a day of praise and thanksgiving to God.

"During the last year the Lord has dealt bountifully with us, giving us peace at home and abroad, and the chance for our citizens to work for their welfare unhindered by war, famine or plague. It behooves us not only to rejoice greatly because of what has been given us, but to accept it with a solemn sense of responsibility, realizing that under heaven it rests with us ourselves to show that we are worthy to use aright what has thus been entrusted to our care. In no other place and at no other time has the experience of government of the people, by the people and for the people been tried on so vast a scale as here in our own country in the opening years of the twentieth century. Failure would not only be a dreadful thing for us, but a dreadful thing for all mankind, because it would mean loss of hope for all who believe in the power and the righteousness of liberty. Therefore, in thanking God for the mercies extended to us in the past, we beseech Him that He may not withhold them in the future, and that our hearts may be aroused to war steadily for good and against all the forces of evil, public and private. We pray for strength and light, so that in the coming years we may, with cleanliness, fearlessness and wisdom, do our allotted work on the earth in such manner as to show that we are not altogether unworthy of the blessings we have received.

"Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of thanksgiving Thursday, the 26th of the coming November, and do recommend that throughout the land people cease from their wonted occupations, and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks unto Almighty God for His manifold mercies.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington this 31st day of October in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and three, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-eighth.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
By the President.
"John Hay, Secretary of State."

OPERATOR KILLED

Dead Body Found In Creek By Panhandle Bridge Monday Morning—Persistent Rumor of Murder —J. T. Mulcahy the Victim.

John T. Mulcahy, a telegraph operator who has been working for the B. & O. at Garrett, was found in the waters of the North Fork at 7:15 o'clock Monday morning, under the Pan Handle railroad bridge, near the B. & O. depot, stiff and cold in death. The body was found by Pan Handle Section Foreman Charles P. Brown, who was pushing a load of ties across the bridge on a hand car. Glancing down between the ties he noticed the body lying in the water, which is very shallow at this point, and going down to the spot, he pulled the unfortunate man to shore, where it was discovered that he had been dead several hours.

A fractured skull and ghastly cut on top of the head told the story of the death.

Mulcahy, whose full name was John Timms Mulcahy, was known "on the wire" all over the lines of the B. & O. as "Jack" or "Tim." He had been working at Garrett for the B. & O. and was considered an expert operator. He was hired for the Newark dispatchers' office and came to Newark Sunday night on No. 8 on transportation sent him from this city. It was intended that he should go to work Monday morning and would probably have done so had he lived.

He was seen and spoken with by Murray Moore and others at the depot Sunday night, the last time being about 10 o'clock. It is not known where he went or what his intentions were, but he probably went east along the track and stepped off the Pan Handle trestle on the west bound side, as it was under this track that his body was found.

Mr. E. Connors, chief clerk to Chief Train Dispatcher Harry J. Fordyce, identified the body, which was viewed by Coroner C. F. Legge and afterward taken to the undertaking establishment, where it was prepared for burial.

The identification was made complete by a number of letters found on the person of the dead man, several being postmarked Canton. These were from a woman, who began each letter "My Dear Jack," and signed herself, "Yours, Ann." A traveling card of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, issued at Garrett and signed J. H. Haines, was also found on his person.

Mr. Connors immediately began using the telegraph wires to find out for the Advocate something about the dead man's family.

Garrett, Ind.: Chicago Junction and North Baltimore were quickly communicated with and it was learned that Mulcahy's mother lived at Kent, in Portage county, a few miles east of Akron, and that one brother also lived there, who was an operator in the service of the Western Union or the Erie railroad. A sister resides in Cleveland, while his father is dead. Two other brothers survive, also, telegraph operators, but where they are located could not be learned.

Those who saw him Sunday night say that as far as they could see Mulcahy was sober and cannot account for him being in the vicinity of the Pan Handle bridge, where he met his death.

A persistent rumor that the dead operator had been robbed and murdered was current around the streets today, but this is hardly thought to be the case, although every detail will be carefully investigated by Coroner Legge.

It was learned that Mulcahy had drawn his "time" at Garrett something over $19, and after paying some bills, he had only $2.35 when he left Garrett.

One of the B. & O. detectives said Monday that he had seen the dead operator with two companions at 2 o'clock in the morning, near the Pan Handle bridge, and this is the last heard of him until his dead body was found.

WEDDING OF THE NORTH AND SOUTH

GRANDDAUGHTER OF GEN. GRANT AND SON OF CONFEDERATE GENERAL WHO FOUGHT HIM ARE TO MARRY.

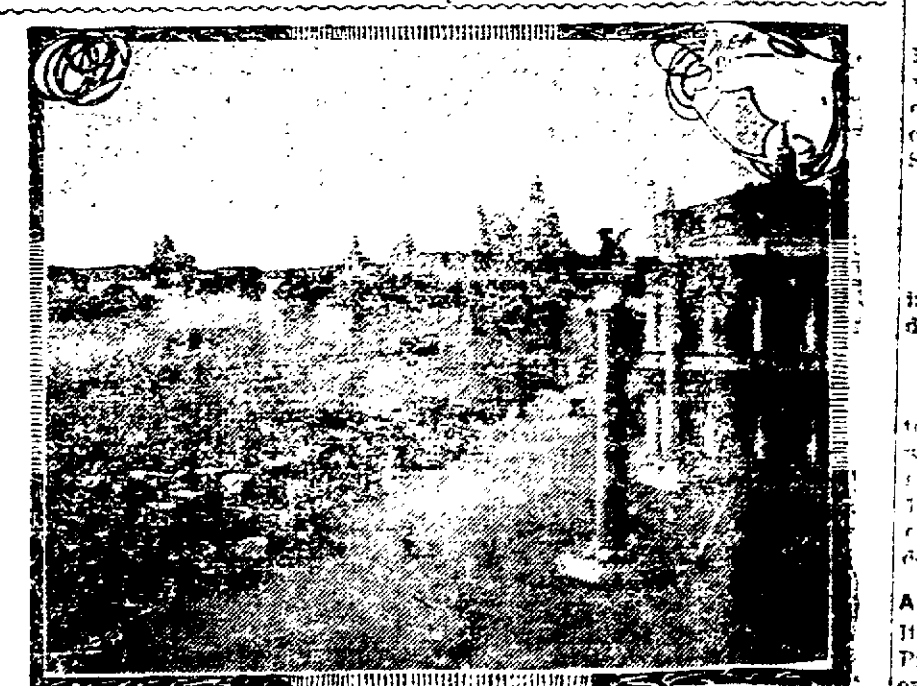

Some of these days, the date has not yet been set, there will occur a wedding which will interest people of both the north and the south. It will be the wedding of Miss Rosemary Sartoris and Lieut. John Wright, U. S. A.

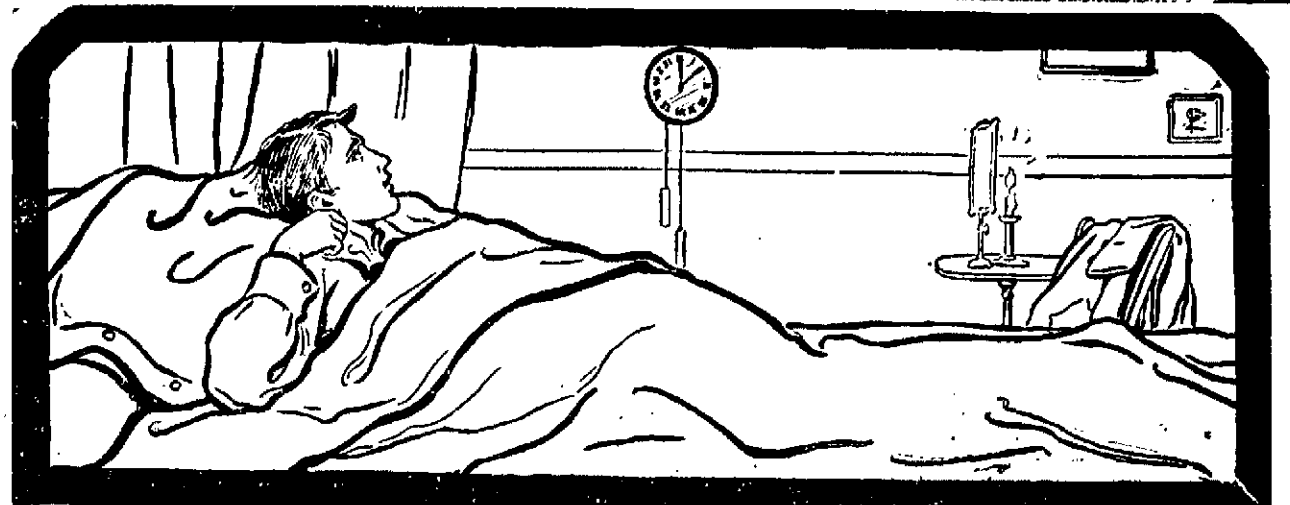

Miss Sartoris is the daughter of Nellie Grant Sartoris and the granddaughter of General U. S. Grant. Lieutenant Wright is a son of Gen. Marcus J. Wright, one of the most famous generals of the confederate army. On many battlefields he and Gen. Grant opposed each other and each had much regard for the other's ability.

Lieut. Wright now wears the blue with as much credit as his father wore the gray. He is an officer in the Fifth infantry and has seen considerable service. When the Spanish war broke out he left his law books and entered the volunteers. At the close of the war he was made a lieutenant in the permanent organization and has since served with his regiment in the Philippines.

The results of the various games Saturday had the effect of narrowing the championship between fewer teams in both east and west, and also makes it difficult to pick the winner of the honors.

Yale's decisive defeat of Columbia, after being played to a standstill in the first half, and Princeton's overwhelming victory over Cornell, makes the result of the championship game to be played by the blue and orange and black, decisive as to the first honors in the east. Harvard's narrow escape from defeat at the hands of Carlisle, and Pennsylvania's defeat by Columbia puts these two teams out of the running. From a view point of what both teams have done so far this season the game between Yale and Princeton should be a wonderful football contest, and we should pick the Tigers to win from Captain Rafferty's strong eleven. Princeton has yet to be scored on, and she remains the only big team east or west to preserve her goal line inviolate.

This proves that the orange and black have developed a defense that will prove impregnable against Yale's attack, while with the known ability of DeWitt to drop field goals, it will be necessary for Yale to keep the ball constantly in her own territory, and, even from the center of the field, as DeWitt is dangerous even at the 50 and 55 yard lines. So stands the eastern situation at present. In the west however, the situation is not so simplified as four teams are in the fight for the championship of the Big Six athletic conference. Wisconsin was the only team put out of the championship class Saturday by her defeat at the hands of Chicago. Northwestern's defeat of Illinois keeps McCormack's team in the fight, but it is hardly to be expected that the Evanston team can defeat either Michigan or Minnesota. Illinois was out of it anyway by her defeat at Chicago.

The results of the three big western games were in accordance with the Advocate's prediction made early in the week. Then we picked Chicago, Northwestern and Michigan to win. The first two did and the latter team as we expected had the hardest game in its career, the Gophers in the last few minutes' play, forcing a tie at 6 to 6. We have all along contended that this Wolverine-Gopher game would be a different contest from that last year, as Dr. Williams had developed a speedy team, without sacrificing and weight. It was the one supreme test for Minnesota and the result is a source of gratification to the team and university. The outcome of the game did not surprise us in the least, and had the score been 0 to 0 we should have thought it was a real test of the two teams.

Eckersole, the great quarter back of Chicago, made that team a dangerous proposition, as his three kicks of goals Saturday from field, scoring all the points made by his team, shows that if Stagg can keep any team from scoring, his brilliant quarterback will win any game.

Yost and any other western coach must reckon with Eckersole in any game to be played with Chicago.

In Ohio, Kenyon easily defeated Cincinnati, Case beat Oberlin, Wesleyan beat Reserve, Denison beat Wittenberg, and O. S. U. finally beat West Virginia. The result in every case was no surprise, but the size of the score made by W. & J. against the crippled Medics was hardly expected.

The football games Saturday resulted as follows:

In Ohio.
Ohio State 34, West Virginia 6.
Case 16, Oberlin 5.

Denison Beats Wittenberg.
Denison won from Wittenberg, 17 to 0, on Case field Saturday afternoon, in one of the cleanest and best played games of the season. The teams are about evenly matched in weight, but Denison's line was stronger and the Baptists easily pounded Wittenberg's tackles for large gains.

Denison used her heavy guards with telling effect. Johnson and Van Voorhis repeatedly made gains through the line, the latter suffering from a badly sprained ankle.

Taylor and Roubush played well, Roubush making a sensational 80-yard run, carrying the ball to the 10-yard line.

Denison kicked off and Wittenberg made a gain of 5 yards, after several small gains, Wittenberg punted 20 to 6 yard gains at every play, carrying the ball to the 10-yard line, where they lost it on downs. Wittenberg was pushed back for a loss and punted.

Denison here used all their resources through Wittenberg's line, making steady gains until after 11 minutes' play Johnson was pushed over the line and Denison scored the first touchdown. Roubush kicked goal.

On the kick off Loughbridge gained 10 yards, after which Van Voorhis by a double pass gained 25 more. The ball was steadily carried up field and after nine minutes of play Van Voorhis made the second touchdown for Denison.

After hard work by Denison and after several steady gains had been made, Roubush secured the ball on a pass and by his fine interference and clean dodging, broke through for a touchdown. The attempt to kick goal failed, leaving the score 17 to 0.

The line-up:

Denison:	Wittenberg:
Left End.	Miller
Craven	Felt Tackle.
Loughbridge	Wickert
Left Guard.
Howell	Finebrook
Center.
Hixson	Bender
Right Guard.
Bailey	Tulloss

Quarter.
Taylor	Gregory
Left Half.
Trego, Roubush	Gregory
Right Half.
Van Voorhis, Roubush	Hughes
Full Back.

Johnson, Van Horn

Time of halves, 25 minutes. Touchdowns, Johnson, Van Voorhis, Roubush. Goals kicked, Roubush, 2.

Umpire, Trash, Denison. Referee, Black, Wittenberg. Score, Denison 17, Wittenberg 0.

Barracks 6, Y. M. C. A. 0.

The Newark Y. M. C. A. team met its first defeat of the season at the athletic grounds Saturday afternoon by a score of 6 to 0. After holding their heavy opponents at every point for the first half, making a desperate stand with the ball six inches from the goal line, just as time was called, Newark started the second half like winners, but Quarterback Jones made an unfortunate fumble and the Barracks' left end, Lieutenant Humphries, got the ball and dashed away for 40 yards for a touchdown. Davis, Seward, Nehls and Boes did great work in Newark's line, and Halfback Mullis was a consistent ground runner. The other members of the team also did splendid work, and their defeat may be attributed to a fumble which may at any time "cost" any team a victory.

GOATS

Will be Sought by the Doctors of St. Louis to Save the Babies of Fair Visitors.

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—St. Louis physicians have united in an effort to save the lives of infants in St. Louis next year by establishing a goat dairy near the city. The corporation has been capitalized for $150,000 and A. B. Hunt, an agent of the company, has started for London, England, to procure high bred Argos goats.

At a meeting of the St. Louis Medical Society Sunday 80 physicians discussed the use of goats' milk as the only safeguard against the numerous deaths among St. Louis infants next year on account of the excessive crowds here.

The goats will be of the finest Angora breed and will be kept on a five-thousand acre ranch already provided in the Ozark mountains, near St. Louis. It is expected that the company will be in operation prior to the opening of the exposition, and an extra effort will be made to accomplish this in order that the scientific men, physicians and chemists attending the world's congresses in St. Louis next fall may see for themselves what has been accomplished and obtain suggestions.

When she regained consciousness for the first time since the shooting she said: "My husband shot me. He was jealous of me."

LILAC BUSHES ARE IN BLOOM

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—The most interesting thing horticulturalists have had to discuss for some time is the blooming for a second time this year of two lilac bushes one purple and the other white. Never before in this section of the country has a lilac bloomed twice in a season.

Four weeks ago a livery and feed stable on the West Side burned. The heat was so intense that glass in windows half a block away cracked. In the yard of Herman Fleming direct east of the burning stables were the two lilac bushes. One week after the fire they began to sprout and today both are in bloom.

ELECTION

Of Licking County Agricultural Society Directors Saturday—The Four Men Chosen.

The annual election of directors of the Licking County Agricultural Society was held on Saturday from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Four directors were to be elected. The candidates were T. W. Shannon, Madison township; W. H. Kussmaul, Grassyville township; and H. H. Baird of Lima township, who were running for their second term, and N. Householder, Washington township; J. F. Locke, Newton township and Samuel Walker of Hanover township, for the first term. There were 332 votes polled and the principal fight was on the election of a director for the first term. The contest, which was a very friendly one, resulted as follows: T. W. Shannon, 278; W. H. Kussmaul, 247; H. H. Baird, 248; N. Householder, 125; J. F. Locke, 172; Samuel Walker, 78. The ballots were all counted and the result made known by 6 o'clock. After the result had been announced the successful candidates invited the members of the Board who were present, and also the defeated candidates to a supper that had been prepared at Schaller's restaurant, and where a good social time was had for the next hour or two.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT COURSE.

Fine List of Talent Announced by the Local Association for the Coming Season.

The entertainment course committee of the Y. M. C. A. is distributing today a handsome prospectus of the course of entertainments which will be given in Taylor hall this season. It is the purpose of the committee to put one into the hands of every member and friend of the association, feeling that the sale of course tickets, which has already far exceeded previous years' sale for the first week, will go on very rapidly when the public once sees the fine array of talent included in this year's course.

The following brief mention of the different numbers will give to those who have not received a prospectus an excellent idea of what the course will be:

1. The Bostonia (Ladies') Orchestra—December 3

It is quite generally conceded that among the several ladies' orchestras before the American public today the "Bostonias" rank first.

Composed of twenty talented musicians and soloists, they present a concert that is entirely worthy of their high rank. The association announces them as the highest paid organization they have ever brought to the city, confident that the music-loving people of Newark will give it a large patronage.

2. Albert Armstrong—December 17.

One of the most popular and attractive entertainments in all the big courses in the East for the past few years has been the Albert Armstrong picture plays. A picture play is not an illustrated lecture. It is a realistic presentation of a story by means of pictures thrown on the screen while the story is being told by the entertainer. It combines the work of the actor, dramatic reader and scenic artist. Mr. Armstrong will present the popular story, "The Sky Pilot."

3. Anderson-Reohr Concert company—January 7.

Not one of the eight members has stronger personal letters of recommendation than the Anderson-Reohr company. The company consists of four finished artists: D'Arlington Reohr, tenor; Ruth Anderson-Reohr, violinist; Wilma Anderson, pianist, and Miss Lillian Prindle, violinist. They represent the "high-water" mark in concert work. There are none better.

4. Dr. Thomas E. Green—January 21. Probably no public man in America has more representative calls for his services than has Dr. Thomas E. Green. Leading clubs and societies from all parts of the country place him at the head of their program. He occupies today a big place among the really great men of the League, past and present. His lecture, "The Key to the Twentieth Century," is a masterpiece.

Mr. Taft is known far and wide as "The World's Fair Sculptor." He presents a most unique and fascinating form of entertainment. "A Glimpse of a Sculptor's Studio, or How Statues Are Made," illustrated fully at each step by the actual process upon the stage, is a revelation to the average mind and education and an inspiration.

6. Nellie Peck Saunders company—February 18. This company of ten artists, with its varied program, combines art in numerous forms. Herself a noted interpreter of literature; she is surrounded with singers and players of proven ability, and these individual artists in ensemble work have secured results strikingly unique, artistic and beautiful.

7. Montville Flowers—March 3. There are only a few really great impersonators. Montville Flowers is one of them. His interpretive recitals from masterpieces in the opinion of many trustworthy critics place him in a field all his own. The committee has not decided whether to hear him in "Ben Hur," "Les Miserables," "The Little Minister," or in one of Shakespeare's tragedies. He does masterful work in any of them.

8. Ralph Parlette—March 17. The name of Ralph Parlette is synonymous with a good time. He is a humorist through and through, but he is more than that—a brilliant orator and philosopher. Parlette is a grand success. He "makes good" wherever he goes. He will give the course an enthusiastic ending.

The course tickets for the eight numbers are now on sale at the Y. M. C. A. office. They are going fast. All who want to make sure of good seats should buy now.

MEN'S MEETING

At Taylor Hall Sunday Was Attended by a Large Number of Newark People.

The men's meeting at Taylor Hall Sunday was one of the largest ever held there, and the address on "The Battle for Brea," by Dr. O. N. Kaylor of Pittsburgh, was one of the best ever given at a Sunday afternoon meeting. Sargent's trio consisting of two violins, and a harp furnished the musical selections and also accompanied the gospel singing. Another pleasing feature of the musical program was the singing of Miss Mary Robinson, who has been furnishing the music for Dr. Kaylor's meetings for the past two weeks.

In every respect the meeting Sunday was successful and helpful.
